

Religion Page

 Introduction Faith is the foundation of our identity and the wellspring of our hope. As Eritrean Orthodox Tewahdo Christians, we draw strength from a spiritual tradition that has shaped our people for centuries. Zara Selam Media embraces this heritage with deep respect and gratitude.

 At the same time, our mission is not to divide believers by denomination or doctrine. Instead, we seek to promote peaceful coexistence, mutual respect, and harmonic dialogue among all who worship God, a principal bedrock that should bring all believers to a harmonic, cooperative and united effort for a peaceful uniting care for all human beings based on peace, justice and dignity.

 This page reflects our strong Orthodox Tewahdo faith while honoring the dignity of every person. We explore Scripture, tradition, and spiritual life with humility, always remembering that God calls us to peace, compassion, and unity.

 Our goal is to revive the spiritual values of our ancestors — truthfulness, humility, respect for elders, love for community — and to let these values guide us toward a more peaceful Eritrean future.

Faith, Tradition, and Community

Religion plays a central role in the lives of many Eritreans. At Zara Selam, we honor the spiritual heritage of our people by offering content that uplifts, educates, and strengthens our shared values.

Our Focus

We explore:

- Teachings and traditions of the Orthodox Tewahdo faith
- Reflections on spirituality and daily life
- Community service, leadership, and moral responsibility
- Religious events, history, and cultural identity

Our Guiding Principle

Faith should unite us, not divide us. Through respectful and thoughtful content, we aim to support spiritual growth and encourage a deeper appreciation of our religious heritage.
